2. The houses on Maldenstrasse in Annaberg, which had been occupied by Soviet officers' families for the past six months, were vacated. The officers moved to the barracks installation and their dependents returned to the U.S.S.R. Furniture left behind was repurchased by the new German residents. The buildings on Jungfernstieg, near the former komendantura, were also vacated by Soviet officers' families at the beginning of June 1951.
3. A Soviet unit of from 1,200 to 1,300 men, wearing red-bordered black epaulets and black-bordered red epaulets, led by a military band, was seen marching along the road to the Mehnert Kaserne, Annaberg, on 25 June.
4. The following observations were made in the training area on Poehlberg (hill):
  - 15 June. 60 soldiers were engaged in target practice in the quarries with rifles mounting telescopic sights.
  - 21 June. 500 to 600 troops from the Mehnert Kaserne and the Soviet quarters in the boys' school, who wore black-bordered red epaulets and red-bordered black epaulets, were involved in a combat practice, with the troops advancing and attacking under simulated combat condition toward Geyersdorf. The unit from the barracks installation in Annaberg-Frohnau, whose personnel wore red-bordered black epaulets, started a night practice on the evening of the same day, which ended at 3 a.m. on 22 June.
  - 23 June. About 500 soldiers with red-bordered black epaulets from the barracks installation in Annaberg-Frohnau were again engaged in a night practice.
  - 26 June. About 550 troops with black-bordered red epaulets and red-bordered black epaulets received infantry training.
5. The Soviet unit in the boys' school maintained a kennel with about 30 dogs. The block of houses south of the barracks installation in Kathenauerstrasse was vacated by the German inhabitants between 15 and 18 June. No information on the further use of houses could be learned. (2)
6. On 25 and 26 June, sections of the Soviet Wismut Administration of Chemnitz were observed arriving at the former komendantura in Annaberg. Soviet officers stated that the whole Wismut Administration, including the headquarters, would eventually move to Annaberg.

13. In May, telephone wires were strung from the Soviet quarters in the Kutscher factory to the barracks installations in Raschau, Chrandorf, Antonsthal, Breitenbrunn, Settlement No 204, and as far as Johann-georgenstadt. All barracks installations and mines in this area were included in the system. (4) 14.

Four-ton ZIS trucks [Redacted] driven by soldiers who wore black-bordered red epaulets, were identified for the first time in Raschau, Gruenstaedtel and Johann-georgenstadt. (5)

Comments.

(1) Since the information differs to some extent from previous reports on Soviet troops in Annaberg, confirmatory information is required. The present report definitely indicates that the Mehnert Kaserne and the barracks installation on Leninstrasse still quarter soldiers with black-bordered red epaulets. However it is doubted that the barracks installation in Frohnau, which was previously reported to have been occupied by MGB troops with red-bordered green epaulets, is now occupied by soldiers with red-bordered black epaulets as worn by labor units or AAA units.

(2) The dog kennel in the boys' school is suggestive of MGB troops there.

(4) The MGB units in the localities mentioned are probably subordinate to a headquarters in the Kutscher factory, Schwarzenberg.
